I agree—email's not the best way to go. I've been meaning to touch base with you before the review, anyway—there are some things I'd like to discuss with you.

I could meet later in the morning or in the afternoon on Tuesday; at 7:30 or between 1:15 and 2:15 or after 3:15 on Wednesday; or later in the afternoon (after 3) on Thursday. Let me know if any of these times work.

Let's try to talk this week about this and about preparation for his review. Email's probably not the best way of discussing something like this anyway. Not sure if there's a pattern here, but it's disturbing. If you want to come to my again (decent coffee and total privacy), that might work. Of course I'm happy to meet anywhere else too.

I talked to someone who attended one of these and he mentioned these topics as well—not in quite the same way, but the account of what was said was similar.

R,

Did you get an anonymous complaint from a non-profit leader in the mail about Michael?
